Structural Engineer - Buildings

Seeking Graduate, Intermediate and Senior Structural Engineers to join our Buildings group in Christchurch for 1-2 years fix contract.

Aurecon provides world-class engineering, management and specialist technical services for government and private sector clients globally. Our vision is to foster human achievement and our partnerships with clients make a daily difference to the communities in which we live and work. We have offices in 28 countries and work on projects in over 70 countries across Africa, Asia Pacific and the Middle East. We empower our people to make a difference through innovation and teamwork and our projects are recognised for engineering and technical excellence by independent industry awards internationally.

Due to on-going growth an exciting opportunity exists for a Structural Engineer to join our Buildings group based in our Christchurch office. This role provides a unique opportunity to work with an enthusiastic, multidisciplinary team on a wide range of property related projects within a large portfolio of multidisciplinary markets.

With proven experience to project lead in the design of commercial, educational, industrial, residential or hospital projects you will gain not only more project lead experience, but also additional engineering and supervision experience across a range of structural projects dealing with project planning, resourcing, design, construction, supervision and defects.

To be successful you will have:

- Background in Seismic Engineering.
- Tertiary qualifications in Civil/Structural Engineering
- CPEng status is preferred, but not essential
- Skills in the design and documentation of new and modification of existing building structures.
- Preferably knowledge of New Zealand Seismic Design Standards.
- Produced document reports, proposals and specifications
- An interest in architecture and working with architects
- Experience on large projects from inception to construction and completion. Liaison with clients, sub-consultants and contractors
- Strong communication skills, teamwork and self-motivation

In return for your expertise, you will be offered the benefits that come from working in a global consultancy, with ongoing professional support and development in an environment where initiative is rewarded. We are committed to fostering a culture that empowers our people, promotes teamwork and embraces sustainability.

For successful candidates from overseas we can help with Visas and would assist with flights and accommodations once in NZ.
